Grange Opposes T-H Law Repeal; No Mandate Seen

Legislative Representative Presents Views to the Committee; Murray Sends Letter

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—The National Grange, a farm organization, told Congress today that those who claim the November election was a mandate for outright repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law are in "error."

The Grange said farmers played "fully as decisive a role" in the re-election of President Truman as any other group, and that farmers believe the Taft-Hartley Act has had "a corrective effect" on labor-management disputes.

J. T. Sanders, legislative representative, presented the Grange's views to the Senate Labor Committee.

The committee is considering the proposal of the Truman administration to junk the Taft-Hartley Act and replace it with a law more like the original Wagner Labor Relations Act.

The Senate is expected to be the main battleground on the issue. On the House side of the Capitol, Democratic leaders predicted the House will approve most of the Truman labor program.

Sanders' argument to the Senators was in direct conflict with one they got in a letter from C.I.O. President Philip Murray.

Murray's letter said also that the labor bill is the "keystone" of the entire Truman "fair deal" program, and complained that "not a single one" of the fair deal proposals has been enacted in the first 50 days of the 81st Congress.

Murray said, too, that Senator Taft (R-Ohio) has made "a long list of concessions and retreats" adding up to a "reluctant confession" that the Taft-Hartley law is unworkable.

Sanders said repeatedly that the Grange is not opposed to organized labor.

But he suggested that unions, instead of "overemphasizing high wages," should tie wages to the cost of living, so that wage rates would automatically rise or fall with prices.

Senator Neely (D-W. Va.) asked: "Do you think industrial wages are too high?"

Sanders: "I doubt that they are. But I think they will be too high if farm prices decline substantially."

Sanders said neither labor nor management can come before Congress and "rightfully claim rights which exclude or subordinate public interests." He added, "We believe many of their (labor's) claims have been of that stripe."

Two Are Endorsed
New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—Former Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., and Henry Morser have been endorsed by the board of directors of the United Jewish Appeal. The Board of the U.P.A., one of three organizations financed by the U.J.A., gave the endorsements last night. The 62 directors present were reported to have voted unanimously.

Air Rifles Are Seized
Air rifles were taken from a group of boys by the police early Saturday afternoon following the report of a resident of Lindsley avenue that her daughter had been shot in the leg by one of the group. A patrol car was dispatched to the scene and the rifles were taken after the patrolmen reprimanded the group.

Dover Plains Has $150,000 Fire Loss

Dover Plains, N. Y., Feb. 21 (AP)—A large feed and farm machinery warehouse and an adjacent ice plant were destroyed early today by a fire. Authorities said the fire apparently was a rekindling of a small blaze extinguished 12 hours earlier.

Deputy Dutchess County Sheriff Hugh Brennan estimated damage at $150,000.

Destroyed in the blaze was the Willson and Egan Co., warehouse, filled with $65,000 worth of grain and machinery, and the Waugh Ice Plant.

Committee to Give Controls Answer

Price-Wage and Industrial Building Proposals Hang Fire

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Congressional Economic Committee will have by next Monday a yes-or-no answer on President Truman's proposals for (1) stand-by price, wage and allocation controls and (2) government power to build industrial plants.

The findings of the committee, made up of members of both the Senate and the House, are not final. But, if it takes a "no" stand, the President's broad economic program probably would have little, if any, chance of approval in Congress.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said he has not canvassed the Joint Economic Group, which he heads, and can make no predictions.

But for himself he labeled as "just folklore" the attacks in which some Republicans have called the President's program "regimentation" and "totalitarianism."

He said the powers asked by Mr. Truman are needed "as insurance and protection for the whole economy—jobs of the workers, profits of business and the income of the farmer."

There were three other developments on the economic front:

1. O'Mahoney issued a formal statement saying that when the Joint Economic Committee completes its report on the President's economic program he will recommend that the group "look into the facts" on unemployment.

Some friends of organized labor have charged that the unemployment picture is being over emphasized to prevent wage increases.

2. In the same statement the Wyoming lawmaker said it appears that big business "would be hurt."

Opposition Is Fading on Tax Boosts

Governor Dewey Holds Buffet Supper for GOP Lawmakers and Discusses Budget

Passage Expected

General Feeling Is '49 Requests Will Be Honored

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 21 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey fought confidently today to quell a Republican revolt in the state legislature against his plan to boost New York's taxes by $168,200,000.

The challenge to Dewey's leadership sprang from two of the state's most populous counties—Westchester and Erie, whose G.O.P. legislative delegations went on record against tax increases.

Dewey defended his proposed $936,200,000 budget, with its $168,200,000 tax rise, at an unprecedented conference with 102 of 118 Republican legislators after a buffet supper last night at the executive mansion.

They said Dewey asked for no vote commitments from legislators on his fiscal program and that the governor explained that his record-high budget could not be trimmed without impairing essential state services.

The conference followed a decision over the week-end by the all-Republican Westchester county bloc of six assemblymen and three senators to fight the proposed one-cent per gallon increase in the state gasoline tax, now four cents, and to demand a reduction in the proposed 62 2/3 per cent increase in the personal income tax.

Opposition by the seven Erie county G.O.P. legislators is concentrated against the gasoline tax boost.

The two county delegations, with minority Democrats, could defeat Dewey's fiscal program. The Republican 51-25 edge in the Senate and the 87-63 margin in the Assembly represent the smallest G.O.P. majorities since Dewey took office as governor in 1943.

Dewey's secretary, Paul E. Lockwood, described last night's conference as a "very constructive evening."

Problems Discussed
He said legislators discussed with Dewey "the necessities of the budget and the tax problem" and also discussed "serious problems of balancing the 1950-51 budget."

Lockwood told reporters "even the present who desired to express his views did so. There was a general interchange of ideas and analysis of problems. It went off very well."

Republican legislative leaders have expressed confidence they will have enough votes to pass the administration's 14 budget and tax bills without major changes.

The measures are scheduled to be reported from committees tomorrow and are expected to be brought to a vote about March 1.

Some observers interpreted the Westchester county delegation's stand as a maneuver to force Dewey to give the county a larger share than presently contemplated of the extra $40,000,000 in state aid for education that he has proposed this year.

Westchester legislators for years have clamored for more school aid on the grounds that the county, one of the state's wealthiest, contributes far more in taxes than many other counties and gets back proportionately less under the state's formula for distribution of state aid.

An administration spokesman said the decision of the Westchester delegation Saturday to oppose tax boosts did not come up at last night's conference. He said there was no mention either of a meeting of the Erie delegation, also on Saturday.

It appeared likely, in view of last night's conference, that the Dewey administration would work

Pact to Be Ready in Month; Norway Risks Russian Ire

Labor Party Norway's North Cape Stands As Pushover for Red Seizure

Decision Made Despite Soviet Warnings on Action; Lange Speaks for Treaty

Lack Faith in U.N.

Feeling Is United Nations Can't Guarantee Any Security

Oslo, Norway, Feb. 21 (AP)—Norwegian Foreign Minister Halvard M. Lange announced today Norway has decided to pin her security to the Atlantic pact.

Informed sources said Russia's three weeks old offer of a non-aggression treaty will be rejected.

Lange told a news conference his country lost faith in neutrality in 1940 when the Nazi army overran it.

He now believes the best hope of staying out of a war is to pursue a policy that will prevent or reduce the possibilities of war, Lange said.

Despite Red Warnings
Oslo, Norway, Feb. 21 (AP)—Norway has decided to risk Russia's displeasure and cast her lot with the West by joining the North Atlantic defense pact.

Despite Soviet warnings, the dominant Labor Party has approved the pro-western foreign policy of Foreign Minister Halvard M. Lange. The vote, at a party meeting was 229 to 33, but the opposition yesterday decided to make the vote unanimous.

Parliamentary approval, which still is necessary, is expected this week. All parties except the small Communist representation are backing Lange's policies.

Observers said it is only a question of time before Norway joined the North Atlantic Pact negotiations in progress in Washington.

They said the U. S. timetable would be the deciding factor on when the Norwegians join.

Lange stressed the belief it is necessary for Norway to turn to the West for protection because he believes the United Nations alone is not capable of ensuring peace.

Norway's leaders feel a regional defense system offers more protection for small nations. But they

Hoover Commission Urges State Department Overhaul

Change, Report Says, Would Remove Flaws in Foreign Relations Handling; Work Overload Blamed for Conditions

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Hoover Commission today urged a top-to-bottom overhauling of the State Department to remove "flaws" in the handling of the nations foreign relations.

The commission laid down a list of 22 recommendations in a report which said the reins over this country's dealings abroad—now spread out all over the government—should be concentrated squarely in President Truman's hands.

While some of the group's suggestions were directed to Congress, most were aimed straight at the State Department. That agency, the commission declared, has fallen to "low esteem" with lawmakers, the press, the public and many of its own officials.

The main reason for this, the report said, is the department's postwar work overload.

The 12-man bipartisan commission on government organization is headed by former President Herbert Hoover. As vice chairman, Secretary of State Acheson helped draft the recommendations for improving the department he came to head.

Those proposals included:

1. Letting the department drop such operating functions as handling passport visas, munitions control, aviation and shipping, so its can concentrate on policy matters.

2. Providing the secretary with a larger top-level staff to help lift the "intolerable burden" he and his undersecretary bear. There should be two new deputy undersecretaries, eight assistant secretaries instead of six, and a general reshuffling of functions, the report said.

3. Building up a team of expert negotiators to represent the United States at international conferences—an arrangement already started with the appointment of Philip C. Jessup as a special ambassador. The top officials, the commission said, "are needed in Washington."

4. Gradual merging of the foreign service and regular State Department establishment into a single foreign affairs service, with all employees obligated to serve either at home or overseas.

5. Giving such responsibility to Ambassadors and ministers abroad that there could be no conflict with other American representatives on the scene.

Along with these recommendations, the group turned thumbs down for the present on any move to transfer the military governments of Europe and Japan to civilian control.

The commission submitted its recommendations without any estimate of possible immediate savings, noting that postwar readjustments already have cut down State Department personnel by 26 per cent.

Railway Employees Give Testimony Before P. S. C.

Israeli Accepts Armistice Draft

Egypt Given Until Tuesday To Make Known Her Stand in Matter

Tel Aviv, Israel, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Israeli cabinet has accepted a draft of a compromise armistice agreement with Egypt, an authoritative source reported last night.

There was no immediate indication whether Cairo officials would also endorse the draft for the Egyptians.

At Rhodes it was reported that a copy of the draft was flown to Cairo today. The Egyptian delegation asked until tomorrow for Egypt to make its position known.

Delegates of the two nations, meeting at Rhodes since Jan. 13 under United Nations auspices, were said there to have accepted a truce agreement in principle except for one controversial point.

Egypt and other Arab nations went to war against Israel shortly after the new Jewish state was proclaimed nine months ago. Actual fighting ceased around the first of the year after a strong Jewish offensive.

The Tel Aviv informant said the armistice draft approved by the cabinet provided for a withdrawal of main military forces of both the Israelis and Egyptians only in the western Negev—a desert area on the Jewish-Egyptian frontier. He said it did not apply to the eastern Negev, where Beersheba, an important Negev city, is located.

Linden, Christians Take Stand on Matter of Discontinuing Trains

Two railroad employees, Conductor Thomas Linden of Albany, formerly of Kingston, and Engineer Claude Christians of Hurley were the only two witnesses called this morning before the adjourned Public Service Commission hearing relative to the withdrawal of certain trains from the West Shore Railroad and the rearrangement of schedule on the Catskill Mountain Division of the New York Central Lines.

The hearing was opened with Linden under cross-examination by William Stevens, railroad counsel.

Linden said he had been selected to testify at the hearing because he had resided in Kingston for many years prior to going to Albany and was interested in the service on the line.

He was asked as to his record on the railroad and said his record was "second to none," that he had been disciplined at various times as had all other railroad men for violations of rules. He was asked in regard to various suspensions covering a period from 1914 to 1938 and said that he had been suspended in 1914 for having a fist fight with another employee named Lapold, who had also been suspended. The other suspensions had been for various

Communists Print Alleged Confession of 15 Churchmen

Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 21 (AP)—The Communist-dominated press for the third successive day printed a purported confession today of one of the 15 Protestant church leaders facing trial Friday on charges of treason, espionage and black market money dealings.

The latest was attributed to Georgi Chernev, head of the Pentecost Church in Bulgaria. Others printed over the week-end came, the papers said, from Yanko Ivanov, supervisor of Methodist churches, and Vassil Zlapov, Congregational Church leader.

Zlapov was religious representative of the Supreme Council of the United Evangelical Churches;

Huge Arms Proposal Is Included

Negotiators Will Enter Final Stage of Talks This Week; to Confer Tuesday, Wednesday

Cost to Be High

Arms Mutual Aid Plan Might Cost Billion First Year

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—The State Department hopes to present to Congress in about one month a power packed North Atlantic security treaty. It would be reinforced by a multi-billion dollar military aid proposal for the countries of western Europe.

Secretary of State Acheson, Canadian and European negotiators will enter the final stage of treaty negotiations this week. They plan a conference at the State Department Tuesday or Wednesday.

Acheson then is expected to have another talk with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Its members convinced him in a session Friday that the Senate can be expected to approve a strongly worded commitment to Europe, even though any automatic war commitment is out.

Parallel with this work, the State Department is coordinating plans for the arms mutual aid program. This is expected to require more than a billion dollars in appropriations the first year, to net the Europeans upwards of $3,000,000,000 worth of arms with the help of surplus-army stocks now available.

Meanwhile, the week-end brought these other developments:

1. Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) declared the Atlantic pact must carry a moral commitment that the United States will act in event of an aggression against any of the treaty countries. He reasoned that no such thing as a legal commitment is possible. Senator Smith (R-N.J.) indicated that he is urging that the treaty should leave no doubt that the United States would move quickly if Russia decided to march.

2. Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said in a speech at Kenton, O., that he was "inclined to favor" some such treaty as the Atlantic pact, but in the absence of details "I don't know exactly what it's supposed to be like." Taft added that of course, any agreement we have to meet the constitutional provision that only Congress can commit the country to war.

3. The Washington Post said in a copyrighted article that a poll it took showed the Senate would vote overwhelmingly to fight should Russia attack any one of the North Atlantic treaty countries. Of the 51 Senators replying to a question on the subject, the Post said 50 said they would vote to repeal armed aggression, 37 others declined to answer at this time and eight could not be reached.

4. Senator Capehart (R-Ind.) called for a slash in European recovery funds, now up for appropriation. He proposed thereby to make money available to finance the projected new military aid program without increasing this nation's total dollar output to Europe. He predicted he would get "some" support.

5. The Foreign Policy Association declared that the greatest weakness of the Atlantic treaty, from the European viewpoint, is its lack of an automatic war pledge. Nations which ally, want assurance of instant American help, not a congressional debate in the event they are attacked.

6. Norway's dominant Labor

Pope Tells Throng Cardinal's Case One of Persecution

Vatican City, Feb. 21 (AP)—Pope Pius XII told 250,000 cheering Italians yesterday the imprisonment of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty in Communist-ruled Hungary was religious "persecution" by a "totalitarian and anti-religious" government.

The Pontiff made his fifth public condemnation of the Cardinal's sentence to a huge crowd gathered in the square in front of St. Peter's Church.

He hinted strongly that the Hungarian government, by some secret means, had wronged from Cardinal Mindszenty a confession of crimes of which the Primate was innocent.

His Holiness clearly warned in

Philadelphia Transit Strike Is Ended After Union Approves New Pay Raise

Philadelphia, Feb. 21 (AP)—A subway guard shouted "watch the doors!" a crowded bus squealed to a stop. A trolley motorman heaved his passengers to "move to the rear of the car."

For Philadelphia's commuting millions, those were welcome sounds today. The city's 10-day transit strike was over.

The Philadelphia Transportation Company's rolling stock began moving last night a few hours after rank and file C.I.O. unionists roared approval of the pay raise that ended their walkout.

Although the transit tie-up was ended, the nation's third largest city will not soon forget the "strike of '49," which cost business and industry an estimated $70,000,000.

It forced the 3,200,000 daily P.T.C. riders to scramble into the city by their own resources. Sardine-can tight suburban trains lugged some. Many walked. Thousands hitch-hiked.

And when the strike came to its stormy end last night, Philadelphians could look back on two noisy mass rallies, one of which broke up in a near riot.

The strike gained the C.I.O. transport workers union a wage boost of eight cents an hour and 10 "fringe" benefits. Chief of those was a provision for sick leave payments.

It was a fourth increase for the union, raising the workers' wages 48 cents since 1946.

The strike cost each union man some $11 a day. Each gained 64 cents. Previously workers averaged $1.35 an hour. They now make $1.43.

P.T.C. announced a loss of about $350,000. The company says it has to increase fares to keep from going bankrupt. P.T.C. already raised its fares twice in the last three years.

At Harrisburg, members of the Pennsylvania General Assembly prepared, meanwhile, for a public hearing on a proposed amendment to the state's labor law. The amendment, sponsored by State Senator A. Evans Kephart, Phila-

Buckner Faces Trial

New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—William P. Buckner, Jr., 41-year-old cafe society figure, faces court today on charges that he used a swank Park avenue "charity" benefit as the front for a fantastic gambling party.

Buckner arrived in custody of two detectives last night from Puerto Rico where he was captured a week ago, after a six months international chase. He was booked at a police station on four misdemeanor charges. Buckner, who once was to fail for participation in a $3,500,000 Philippine Railroad bond swindle, was dapper and smiling when he arrived by train from Philadelphia. He declined to answer newsmen's questions here or in Philadelphia, where he disembarked from the freighter Aguiliqueen.

The trial was before an eight-member military commission headed by Brig. Gen. John L. McKee. The commission last week sentenced Frontisek Klocka, a waiter on the Orient Express, to 20 years at hard labor after hitting a veil of complete secrecy over his trial.

Hundreds Reported Killed

Lisbon, Portugal, Feb. 21 (AP)—The fall of a huge wall was reported today to have killed or injured several hundred persons lined up for a food handout in Praia, capital of the Cape Verde Islands. Portuguese colonial officials said they had been informed of the disaster by the governor of the islands, a Portuguese colony off the northwest African coast. There was no official count of the dead. Dispatches from Praia said 315 persons, many of them dead, had been dragged from the ruins.

Markle Home Has Blaze

A fire which started in the chimney and spread to the siding of a newly-constructed house on the Whiteport road was extinguished by the owner of the house, Floyd Markle, and Mrs. Markle shortly before noon today, Chief Winfred Snyder of the Hurley Fire Company reported. There was only minor damage to the side of the house, which was constructed last fall and is located about one-eighth of a mile from the fire corners on the Lucas turnpike. The Hurley Fire Company was called but reported the fire out on arrival.

Two Fire Calls

Flames from a furnace visible through an open door of a garage at Needes Express, Inc., 25 South Manor avenue, caused a fire scare Saturday afternoon. Firemen were called at 3:50 p. m. Smoke from a furnace resulted in a similar call shortly before 10 p. m. today. The smoke had filled a hallway in the building housing the Weber store at the lower end of Broadway. The hallway leads to several apartments in the building. No damage resulted.

ended negotiations and that all that remains is rejection by Cairo, or acceptance and formal signing of the agreement. Israeli sources in Rhodes said there would be no further discussions. Beersheba is outside of the territorial limits of Israel as laid down by the U.N. partition plan of 1947.

Further armistice talks are expected to continue in Rhodes, a Trans-Jordan delegation is expected there soon to begin talks with the Israelis.

Tel Aviv sources said the Israeli government has asked that any talks with Lebanon also include Syria. The Jews were reported ready to release Lebanon unless Syria withdraws from the Mishmar Hagarden settlement in Northern Galilee.

There was no indication which talks would be held first. The Lebanon talks had been expected to start by the end of this week.

Express Agencies Quiet

New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—A union official said today that work was at a standstill at six Railway Express Agency terminals in New York and New Jersey. He added that an employee slowdown was in progress at 54 other depots and terminals operated by the agency in the metropolitan area. Daniel T. Sullivan, general chairman of the Express Division of the A.F.L. Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, said the stoppage and slowdown were called in protest against alleged contract "stalling" tactics employed by the company. The division claim to represent 9,000 workers employed by the agency in this area. Negotiations have been under way since last April.

"But we've received so many phone calls and telegrams that I'm sorry we even mentioned our problem. Just tell everyone he's going to be named Philbert, when he's baptized next Sunday."

N.L.R.B. Says Auto Concern Guilty of Unfair Practice

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board today found General Motors Corporation guilty of an unfair labor practice for trying to put into effect a group insurance plan without consulting the C.I.O. United Auto Workers.

The board ruled unanimously that General Motors violated the Taft-Hartley Act by not bargaining with the union before attempting to apply the plan to its 225,000 employees February 1, 1949.

N.L.R.B. General Counsel Robert N. Denham had obtained a court injunction to block General Motors' proposed action last year. The corporation did not oppose the injunction and negotiated a new contract with the C.I.O.-U.A.W. on May 29, 1948.

A General Motors spokesman said that salaried workers were covered by the plan last February, but that the injunction had stopped it for the production workers for the time being.

The board had ruled previously that pensions, insurance and other social security programs come within the scope of collective bargaining as required by the Taft-Hartley Act.

Board member J. Copeland Gray, who had dissented in previous cases, went along with the other members on today's ruling. He said he still believes such social security programs should be left to voluntary collective bargaining, but signed the decision because the precedent and policy already had been fixed by the board.

The N.L.R.B. based its decision on the provision of the Taft-Hartley Act which requires employers and unions "to meet at reasonable times and confer in good faith with respect to wages, hours, and other terms and conditions of employment."

The board said that group insurance plans constitute an indirect part of wages and conditions of employment.

Specifically, the N.L.R.B. ordered General Motors to "cease making any unilateral changes affecting any employees in the units represented by the union, with respect to any group insurance plan without prior consultation with the union."

The board said that a G.M. agreement with the union dated April 24, 1947, pledged the corporation to bargain on proposed changes in its insurance plan.

This provision said "the union's demand for a social security and old age retirement program will continue as a subject for discussion and negotiation following the execution of this agreement."

The board said the union first had requested changes in the company's insurance plan in 1941. In 1945, the union proposed that a percentage of the wage increase it was then seeking be set aside to provide a social security fund for G.M. employees and their families.

The corporation announced on November 21, 1947, that it was inaugurating a new insurance plan effective the next February 1. Denham obtained a temporary restraining order against that action in the Federal District Court in New York city on January 29, 1948.

Board member J. Copeland Gray, who had dissented in previous cases, went along with the other members on today's ruling. He said he still believes such social security programs should be left to voluntary collective bargaining, but signed the decision because the precedent and policy already had been fixed by the board.

Woman Killed in Subway

New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—A middle-aged woman fell from a subway platform in the Bronx today and for more than an hour her body lay wedged under the front car of a subway train while service was suspended on the line. Service on the White Plains avenue I.R.T. subway was halted from 7:58 a. m. (E.S.T.) until 9:01 a. m. while police worked to remove the body. The woman, who police identified from papers as Rose Cooper, about 45, of 1527 Vyse avenue, The Bronx, fell from the platform as an express train roared into the Freeman street station. The wheels of the front car passed over her before the train was stopped. The woman's body, however, was wedged under the car against the third rail. Power was shut off to remove the body.

DIESEL LOCOMOTIVES HAUL MORE GOODS AND PASSENGERS . . .

... WITH GREATER SAFETY AND COMFORT FOR EVERYBODY

BECAUSE OF ITS MODERN, ALMOST FOOLPROOF DESIGN, THE DIESEL IS PRACTICALLY AUTOMATIC!

Yet leaders of two railroad unions demand extra men on diesels! Just plain feather-bedding—here's why!

Here's the truth about diesel locomotives.

Diesel locomotives are equipped with every modern device for maximum safety. They have automatic controls. They can be operated safely by one man. But two men—an engineer and a fireman—are now employed on a diesel road locomotive.

Diesel locomotives—adopted by the railroads as one way of improving their service to you—have hauled millions of passengers in recent years with one of the best safety records in railroad history!

They have pulled millions of tons of freight millions of miles—also with one of the best safety records in railroad history!

Full Pay—No Work!

Leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Firemen and Engineers are now demanding an extra engineer and an extra fireman on diesels, claiming the extra men are needed. But the facts prove these men are not needed. They would just be drawing full pay for doing no work.

The railroads are placing an ever-increasing number of diesels in service—both passenger and freight. These trains are operated at speeds consistent with safety and good service—and on both counts their record tops all public transportation.

Feather-Bedding Is Against Public Interest!

If the ridiculous demands of these union leaders were granted, it would mean paying out millions in wages to men not needed in diesel locomotives.

The leaders of the Engineers' Union have threatened to call a strike to enforce their "feather-bedding" demands. Nevertheless the railroads are resisting—and will continue to resist—such "make-work" schemes which require payment for work not done—schemes which are contrary to the interest of the whole American people.

HERE ARE THE FACTS!

1. The safety record of trains pulled by diesel locomotives is the best of all public transportation.
2. Diesel locomotives provide the best working conditions locomotive engineers and firemen have ever enjoyed: comfort, cleanliness, ease of operation, maximum safety.
3. Diesel locomotives are maintained at peak operating efficiency.
4. The diesel is virtually automatic. It is equipped with the most modern safety appliances.
5. The diesel locomotive is the last word in railroad efficiency, safety and comfort.

NEW VISTAS

I tire of duties now and then And yearn to see my fellow-men In other states and other climes Where I could dash off travel rhymes. The world is filled with garden spots Designed by nature's perfect plots. The land and sea are distant yet Suggest the trips my life desires. I elude Spain and Hudson Bay The hills of Rome and Mandalay Hawaiian shores and Lake Louise Where beauty rises on every breeze. At home, I'd like to visit Maine And see New England's waving grain... I'd like to visit Idaho Where snowy white potatoes grow. New vistas charm this heart of mine And though my star may never shine I have my dreams to cheer the day When travel visions fade away.

Brooklyn Couple Is Wed. Goes to Wake

New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—A Brooklyn couple were married yesterday, and then changed from formal wedding attire to mourning clothes to attend a wake for the bride's father.

For the past six months, Agnes Lagana, 28, and Joseph Puglisi, 25, a tailor, had been arranging their wedding and reception for yesterday, as a double celebration on her father's 53th birthday.

The father, Paul Lagana, who was to have given her away in marriage, collapsed of a heart attack and died in the flower-banked home a few hours before the time set for the wedding.

The family decided to go ahead with the wedding because the dead father had been looking forward to it so eagerly.

Rocco, as his eldest son, gave the bride away at a church. Instead of a reception, there was a wake at a funeral parlor.

Miss Todd Calls Fitzpatrick Talk 'Wretchedly Evil'

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 21 (AP)—Acting Republican State Chairman Jane H. Todd brands as "wretchedly evil" and "irresponsible" statements by Democratic Chairman Paul E. Fitzpatrick assailing Governor Dewey's budget and tax program.

Miss Todd, in a statement, last night accused Fitzpatrick of twisting and distorting facts, and described his attacks on Dewey's program as "wretched politics."

Miss Todd's statement was her first since taking over as acting head of the G.O.P. state committee last week following the resignation of Glen R. Bedonkapp.

Fitzpatrick renewed his attack on Dewey's fiscal program in a radio address Saturday night in which he said the Governor's tax policy is "soak the middle income groups and reward wealthy corporations."

In her statement, Miss Todd said:

"It would be a waste of time to piece out each of the twistings."

bigotries of a majority on a particular day.

Mr. Dewey knows that the rent control laws and their enforcement have been a violation of the constitutional rights of the owners of rental properties. He knows that, skipping the fact that conditions were grim when they were adopted, these laws have since been used, and by him, too, to cultivate favor with a large element at the expense of a small element. The more fact that the situation seemed dangerous when this confiscation of the landlord's revenues was hit upon to appease the rabble is no justification of rent control.

We elect governments to govern under law. If they are afraid to enforce the law lest crowds of the dispossessed go looting and burning that doesn't mean that the constitution is at fault. It means that these elected officials are miscreants who properly should be impeached. It would be just as fair and legal to pass and enforce a law compelling all renters as of low to pay ten times the rent they are paying. It is no less lawful and constitutional to rob tenants by law than it is to rob landlords. To argue that tenants are any more honest or attractive or that they smell better than landlords is to abandon the constitution right there because it takes no notice of such qualities or the luck of them.

But the Americans themselves have shown that they do not like the constitution except as a symbol like the flag. As a diploma it is all right, but in our daily political life we have not lived up to it since Roosevelt tried the experiment in total Fascism called the N.R.A. By the time that had been disavowed by the old Supreme Court in an ironic spot over a sick chicken, the people had developed a desire for unconstitutional government. Meanwhile, we have loaded our judiciary, from the districts up to the Supreme Court, with broken-down

Ponderous Editors

By FRANK TRIPP

An editor I know gets down off his pedestal long enough to write what he calls Junior Editorials. They are thus captioned and interpret world events to youngsters.

He writes about what's going on in words they can understand; he treats complex affairs in simple language and by clever allegory. I've concluded that I must be a Junior, for George Crandall's kids' corner often impresses me more than his learned lead editorial which he thought he wrote for me.

He doesn't always deal with doings of nations and parleys of potentates. One day in a dozen lines he preached a sermon to newspaperboys. He told about a boy calling on one of his customers to collect his pay for delivering the paper. In that city the weekly price is 30 cents.

The man had six nickels. While the boy watched, the customer threw one nickel in the lawn, one on the porch roof, one in the bushes—all six in different, inconvenient places.

Dismayed by this unusual procedure, the boy asked how come. The man good-naturedly said that he had deposited the six nickels in the approximate locations that he had various times found his paper.

The Junior Editorial stopped right there; to let boys who carry papers think it over.

AN INVETERATE READER of editorials said to me, "I wish editorials written for grownups could have more of the tang and simplicity of those Junior Editorials."

I told him that editors are far less ponderous than they used to be. The editor with whom I started wrote as high as the moon over the heads of his readers. He was brought from afar and was the first newspaperman I knew who got $50 a week. Which was as awing as were his dissertations on topics of no concern to ordinary people.

He went away one time and thought he left enough lofty masterpieces to last till he got back. He misjudged, and $18 a week deck hands had to fill his space.

The day that his editorial page appeared in the English language the owner, who didn't know he was away, wrote a note of gratitude. It was the first day he had understood what his own paper was talking about.

WHEN THE EDITOR got back there was a conference and not long thereafter one of the $18 guys became editor — it was rumored at the standard two dollar increase; the maximum and infrequent "up" of 50 years ago. When rent was $12 a month, clothes $12.50 a suit, porthouse 20 cents a pound, and bar whiskey 10 cents for a four ounce shot. These items being the main necessities of molders of public opinion of that day.

But before we great editor was invited to leave, Frank Ross and I hit him for a raise. Rossie was to do the talking, being two weeks my senior on the job—which made him a veteran. We rehearsed a convincing presentation of our cause, then walked in together.

After a considerable wait the big shot said, "Well, young men, what is it?" That was Rossie's cue to launch his diplomatic approach as bargaining agent.

All he said was, "We want more pay."

THE INTERVIEW revealed that we had been there six months, had no previous experience, had just come out of high school and were getting $5 a week.

Whereupon the austere gentleman produced a handful of letters from a pigeonhole in his roll-top desk and proclaimed:

"Young men, I hold here a score of letters from college graduates who are eager to work under me for no pay at all. I recommend that you both return to your tasks, for which you are miserably equipped and too liberally remunerated."

"Yes, Mr. Cunningham," we agreed, and retired—backwards. Out in the hall we looked at each other and shuddered: "Gee, we almost lost our jobs."

Youth, 17, Held After Auto Chase

New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—Police arrested a 17-year-old youth last night after an auto chase through midtown Manhattan in which radio patrolmen fired five shots.

The youth, identified as Donald F. Stearns of (356 Dogwood Lane) Manhasset, N. Y., is charged with passing 17 red lights and driving against one-way traffic.

He received summonses for dangerous driving and driving without an operator's license.

Police told this story: A car driven by Stearns passed a red light at 57th street and Eighth avenue, narrowly missing a traffic patrolman. The patrolman, summoned after the fleeing car, finally three radio cars, three traffic policemen, two private cars and a taxicab, joined the chase.

Stearns was captured at 64th street and York avenue after a two-mile pursuit. He was quoted as saying "I lost my head. I knew I had no license to drive here."

Police said Stearns had a junior operator's license, not valid in New York city. He said he was returning from Rahway, N. J., and used the car without his father's permission.

Police said they fired five shots at the car during the chase. Three bullet holes were found in Stearns' car, one in the roof directly over the driver's seat and one each in the left front and rear fenders.

May Result From Campaign Finances

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—An internal row over how to finance the 1950 congressional campaign threatened today to pile Republican unity on the rocks.

G.O.P. Congress members, headed by Minority Leader Martin of Massachusetts, are reported to have told National Chairman Hugh D. Scott, Jr., they want $200,000 to finance a vigorous drive to regain control of the House.

The implication is that if the National Committee doesn't come through with more than the $40,000 it has tentatively allotted to the congressional campaign committee, House members will pick up their marbles and go look for their own financing.

The same sort of squawks are reported coming from senators who have been allotted only $10,000 thus far to get underway a campaign to save the seats of a dozen of their members and to try to take some away from the Democrats.

Usually the money for congressional campaigns is raised by a finance group operating in each state.

The National Committee fixed $750,000 as this year's over-all goal. It expected to pay out of this the cost of its headquarters operations here, as well as financial help for the Senate and House Committees.

But a Republican leader who didn't want to be quoted by name said most House G.O.P. members think they can do a better job of selling the Republican congressional record if they—instead of the National Committee—spend the money.

He said they think the National Committee didn't do right by them in defending the 80th Congress' record in last year's election.

That feeling was reported to have prompted the setting up of a House Publicity Committee, which Martin, decided to head himself. Republican senators apparently aren't quite so heated up about finances. They don't need as much and they always have former Senator John Townsend of Delaware, a tried and proven money raiser, to fall back on.

Senator Brewster of Maine, co-chairman with Townsend of the senatorial campaign committee, is reported leading peace efforts.

He may meet with Scott and Rep. Leonard Hall, chairman of the House Campaign Committee, this week to try to iron the whole thing out.

Brewster also may propose that Victor Johnston, who headed the independent voter setup in Thomas E. Dewey's campaign headquarters, be named as a sort of co-ordinator of the Senate, House and National Committee campaign work.

Johnston organized the successful Wisconsin primary campaign

A.L.P. Asks Groups
Study of Unemployment

New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—The American Labor party, calling New York state's unemployment "critical," wants a special committee created by the Legislature to survey the situation and recommend legislation to remedy it.

The A.L.P., which proposed the committee in a statement yesterday, said the group should include representatives of both labor and consumer groups.

The party made these suggestions for coping with growing unemployment: Emergency legislation for construction of schools, hospitals and health centers; increased appropriations for home relief; and extension of unemployment insurance to 450,000 workers not now covered.

In its discussion of growing unemployment, the A.L.P. noted that Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi "has officially reported that manufacturing employment in the state decreased by 46,000 workers in January."

The A.L.P. urged defeat of the Wilson-McGovern bill which Arthur Schutler, the party's state executive secretary, said "curbs the freedom of nomination by political parties."

Schutler said the bill would "require that where an original candidate declines a nomination, the party must substitute an enrolled member of that party in his place."

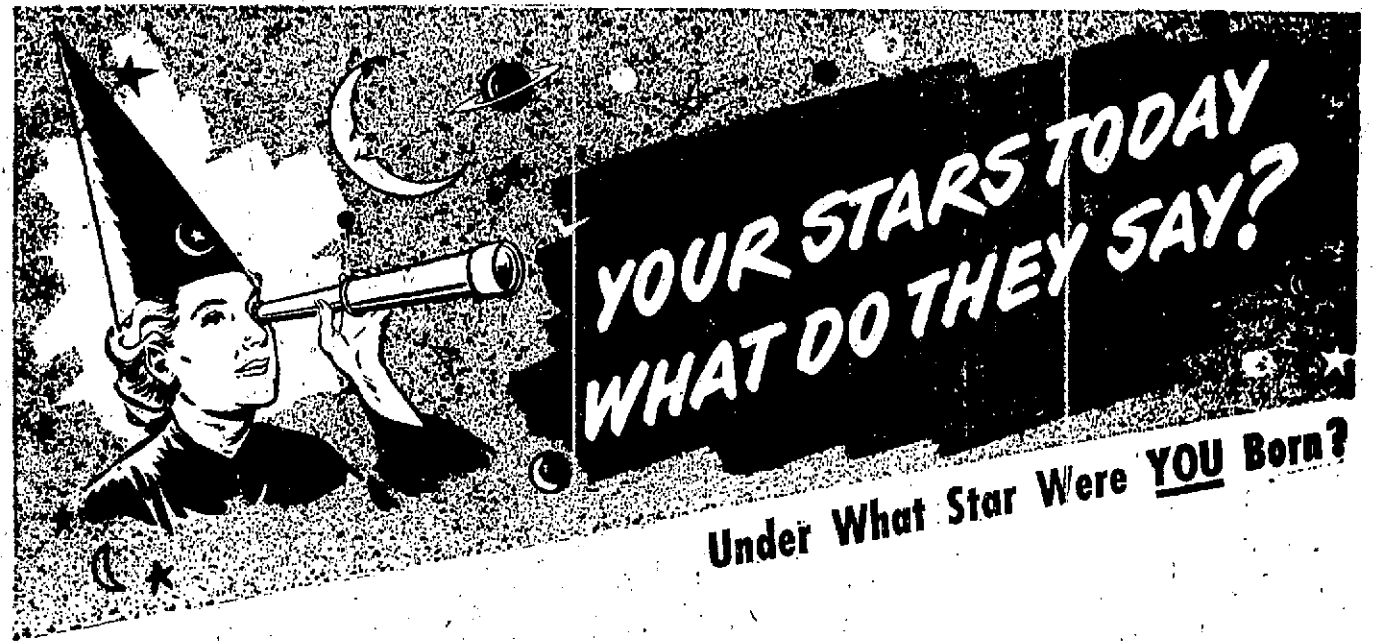

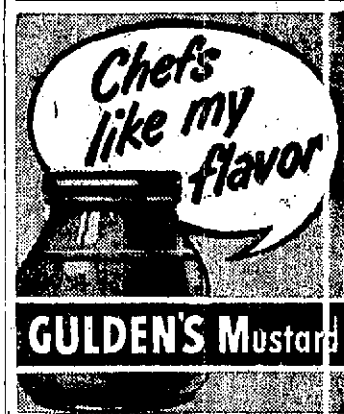

If this bill is permitted to become law, Schutler said, "the next step may well be legislation to require that candidates be not only enrolled in a particular party, but that they also be of a particular religion or race or color or sex."

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children, Are People," etc.)

The mother of a married son asks: "I have been addressing my letters just to my newly married son, taking it for granted that he would show them to his wife. But a letter from him now tells me that while I never wrote anything that she was not welcome to read, she feels like an outsider because my letters are not addressed 'Mr. and Mrs.'"

I am sorry that I must agree with your daughter-in-law. Addressing letters to your son alone means that his wife should not open them. And since she is feeling unhappy about this, it would be thoughtful on your part to address at least some of them to "Mr. and Mrs." and also begin the letters, "My dear Children" or "Dearest John and Mary."

Rule Hardly Important

Dear Mrs. Post: (1) Is it correct at an informal luncheon to place the fork at the right of the plate when no knife is used? (2) And where is the fork placed when a spoon is included also with the fork?

Answer: (1) Correctly, your table should be set with a knife at the right and the fork at the left of the plate, even though the knife is not to be used, because, without it there is no place setting, if you are having merely a luncheon and serving only a few items, then a fork alone would be better put at the right of the plate. (2) The fork is placed on the left and the spoon on the right.

An American Announcement

Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be better form to make the announcement of the coming marriage of a member of my family to a foreign bride, who is coming to this country alone for the wedding in her parents' names or his parents'?

Answer: Wedding announcements always should be sent in the names of the bride's parents. But since the wedding is to take place in this country and the bride's family probably is giving it, these invitations will have to be sent in his parents' names.

Salutation to Business Women

Dear Mrs. Post: When writing a business letter to a group of women, what salutation should be used?

JIMMY DORSEY, FAMOUS BAND LEADER

This year's outstanding attraction at the March 17 ball sponsored by the Uniformed Firemen's Association will be Jimmy Dorsey's band, and it is expected that the presence of this popular musical ensemble will fill the municipal auditorium with an overflow crowd for the St. Patrick's night social affair. The local firemen said they considered signing Dorsey a great accomplishment due to the heavy demand for the band that has become famous through movie recording, broadcasting and engagements in the leading theatres, night clubs and social centers of the nation. In addition to the band, there will be an all-star show to please the patrons of the second annual ball arranged by the firemen.

Philadelphia Republican, would extend provisions of the 1947 anti-strike utility law to cover urban transportation companies.

And in Philadelphia, negotiations continued between representatives of the Yellow Cab Company and the A.F.L.-Taxi Drivers Union. A two-day walkout of cabs, which last week added to the woes of the city's commuters, was ended when the company refused to negotiate until the men returned to work.

The city's millions had on-the-scenes reports of what went on at the transit workers' mass rallies. Mobile radio station units moved into town hall and let the union speak for itself.

The first rally got under way shortly before midnight Saturday and broke up after 2 a. m. yesterday.

International President Michael J. Quill called that rally a "noise party." He said the meeting was "no credit to the Transport Workers Union of Philadelphia."

This is what happened: Local T.W.U. President Andrew Kaelin announced that negotiators for the company and union had agreed on the eight-cent offer. He put it up to the membership.

Some cheered. Some booed. Some made speeches. Kaelin called for a vote. Those in favor were to stand up. Most of the unionists remained seated. Kaelin announced the strike was over.

Minority leaders stormed to the stage, fought for the microphone, screamed, "To hell with it." Kaelin looked at Quill. Quill looked at Kaelin. Then Quill disappeared and Kaelin announced no decision. He summoned the workers to another mass rally.

That one started at 2 p. m. An hour earlier, the union's executive board rejected the agreement and directed the rank and file to continue on strike.

Quill urged acceptance. Vice President Robert High argued against it.

Then Mike Quill took over. In a silvery voice heavy with an Irish brogue, Quill exhorted workers to accept the agreement. A dead silence fell over the group. "I don't like this contract," Quill barked, "but sometimes you have to take half a loaf or less to make an advance."

"Go back to work. Go back to work. Maintain union solidarity. Don't split the union down the middle. That's what the company wants."

He called for a vote. All but 25 men stampeded to their feet and screamed acceptance.

"The strike is over," Kaelin declared. For P.T.C. workers, it was the third strike in six years.

High said the union "lost the strike."

"No," Quill shouted. "You now make one cent less than New York bus drivers. It took them 15 years to get $1.44. It took you four to get $1.43."

Then he fired a parting shot that drew wild cheers: "I'll be back next year."

also implicated several other defendants in the espionage setup, including Ivanov and Ziapkov and Nikola Mihalov, head of the Baptists.

(The Protestant leaders were announced to be under arrest shortly after Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, Roman Catholic primate, was sentenced by a Communist-dominated Hungarian court on similar charges. All have been held incommunicado since. Protestant leaders outside the iron curtain have strongly condemned the arrests as part of a program of persecution.)

(Black, a history professor at Princeton University, and other Americans named in the Bulgarian accusations, have issued general denials of all the charges.)

EAT WELL for Less

Cultivated Mushrooms Add Savor

Now that fresh cultivated mushrooms are dropping steadily in price, they should add their welcome flavors to family menus. Purchase them only from a reliable dealer.

The cultivated mushrooms on the market are raised and gathered under the most scientific conditions and direct supervision of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Freshness is the main indication of quality. Avoid any that are discolored or withered. Those that command the highest price are in the closed stage. That is, the protective "veil" that joins the cap to the stem has not been broken. However, mushrooms with open caps, though not as attractive in appearance, make good eating if they have not deteriorated otherwise. Size has no bearing on quality, but for convenience in cooking, have them uniformly large, medium or small. It is not necessary to remove the skins. Just wash and slice them. Use low heat and do not cook too long, or they will shrivel and toughen.

Mushrooms are excellent broiled, fried, creamed or scalloped, also in soups and in stuffing poultry, and with omelets, chicken, oysters and vegetable curries.

Here are budget menus to help save money:

Luncheon: Deviled egg salad, hot corn muffins, stewed or canned pears, tea, milk.

Dinner: Cheesburgers; hashed brown potatoes, steamed kale, carrot and raisin salad, bread, butter or fortified margarine, frosted cupcakes, coffee, milk.

(This dinner will cost about $2.58 for a family of five.)

Luncheon: Tuna fish salad

Spirituals Sung At Dutch Church

The annual service of Negro spirituals was held at the First Dutch Reformed Church Sunday afternoon with Miss Adele Addison of Springfield, Mass., as guest soloist. The youth and adult choirs of the church participated under the direction of Mrs. Raymond H. Rignall, director of music at the church.

To many who had heard Miss Addison in a previous concert at the church, her solos yesterday were even more thrilling. Her rich soprano voice and her technique have grown until she has achieved supreme artistry in her singing. Her solos were gems of religious experiences for those attending.

The choirs of the church also interpreted the spirituals with much feeling for the religious values inherent in such music. The children's choir was outstanding in its performance of "Keep in De Middle of De Road" sung with Miss Addison and in "This Little Light of Mine"; and The Young People's choir for its singing of "I Want to Be Ready."

The senior choir sang the Christmas spirituals and "Were You There" with the quiet reverence which seemed most fitting and then interpreted "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho" in an entirely different style. The choir also sang accompaniment to Miss Addison's singing of "City Called Heaven." The final number, "O Rise and Shine, by the combined choirs, appropriately closed the service.

Miss Caroline Little was assistant organist. Several members of the choir assisted in incidental solos, ensembles and descants.

Afterward the congregation was invited to meet Miss Addison.

HURLEY

Hurley, Feb. 21—The Hurley Fire Department is planning to be of greater service to the community. The fire commissioners recently purchased a 2 1/2-ton Brockway truck on which they will place a tank holding 2000 gallons of water. This together with the water now carried on the fire truck will enable them to fight and control a fire of considerable proportion.

The Hurley Civic Association has called a meeting at West Hurley Town Hall for Thursday at 7:30 p. m., for the purpose of re-organization. Dates will be collected at this meeting. All who wish to boost their town are asked to show interest, since the association acts as a Chamber of Commerce in giving the town publicity and working for the interest of business and improvement. Last year the organization put out a very interesting booklet showing the advantages of the township.

Masons to Re-enact Inauguration of George Washington

The Masons of New York state will pay tribute to the memory of George Washington on Tuesday, at 2 p. m., when they re-enact the scene of the first inauguration ceremony on the steps of the sub-treasury building using the Washington Bible — on which Washington took oath of office — loaned by St. John's Lodge No. 1.

The original metal railing on the balcony of Federal Hall, which stood at Wall and Nassau streets at the time of the inauguration has been loaned by the New York Historical Society. The ceremony will be filmed by the Dumont Television and telecast over their network originating from WABD on their "Small Fry" program, 6:10 to 6:25 p. m., Tuesday, in New York, Boston, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, New Haven, Baltimore, Philadelphia.

The re-enactment, which will take about half an hour, is based on the fact that at Washington's inauguration, April 30, 1789, the Bible on which to swear was forgotten. Major Jacob Morton, who was marshal of the parade and master of St. John's Lodge, offered to get the Lodge Bible from its meeting rooms around the corner. This was done and the Washington Bible is still the proud possession of St. John's Lodge.

Frank M. Tolton, grand master of New York Masons and vice-president of Chase National Bank, said in a statement issued today: "The re-enactment of this historic scene is a public service that will be rendered by the Masons at a time when the world needs to be reminded that our democracy, so courageously undertaken 216 years ago, has stood the test of time. The faith and foresight of such men as George Washington are a constant source of inspiration to us as Masons and as Americans."

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

With the railroad crossing elimination a possibility and the folks around there having to move pronto, no doubt downtown will get the overflow. Well, Rondout can surely boast of some good substantial buildings from the Rhinebeck Ferry and up. Many were built in the prosperous days of the canal of brick, cement and bluestone. They even say there is one of Italian marble, with iron balconies on West strand.

In the days when sirloin-steaks were selling for 22 cents a pound, (1910 or so) and pork chops 14 cents for a whole pound not one of a half a chop, a nickle bought a good five cent cigar, an ice cream soda or a long ride on the old summer trolley car. Julius Stone, proprietor of the gone but not forgotten Lyric Theatre on the Strand, gladly let you in for a nickle to sit all evening and watch silent movies. Downtown was teaming with folks from both the Rhinebeck and the Sleighsburgh ferries, and the stages (buses) used to pick up passengers at Ben Johnson's drug store, or during bad weather one could wait in the Bank Arcade. I think they even had benches in the arcade.

Some of the big stores downtown were Broadhead and Van Wageningen at 18 E. Strand, Crosby & Ennis at 2-6 Broadway, Joseph Block's department store at 36 E. Strand. Although these establishments are gone but the buildings still, I think, could be converted into fine stores.

Even Armour Beef Co., was at Ferry street, with Jacob Forst as manager. Many of the lawyers had their offices in the second floor of these various buildings and they shopped for stationery at Thomas W. Wadsworth at 25 Broadway or Andrew J. Murphy at 46 E. Strand. Mill street at Broadway had S. E. Elmhurst's department store on one corner, and James Tongue & Son's grocery on the other corner. They both had two entrances. Tongue's store had stone steps and many of his season produce was displayed right near both entrances. For the men folks those were the days of nickel beers and free lunch before reducing diets, need I say more?

G-E Announces It Will Resist 4th Round Increases

New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—The General Electric Company has announced it will resist granting fourth-round wages increases to 200,000 employees.

A spokesman for the company, the nation's largest electrical manufacturer, also voiced opposition yesterday to reported C.I.O. union demands for shorter hours without reduction in pay, and liberalized pension and welfare programs.

L. R. Boulware, G-E vice-president in charge of employee relations, said that on the basis of "anything we see now, no wage rise is or will be justified."

The statement came a day after the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, of America (C.I.O.) reportedly said it plans to seek wage increases and other benefits in forthcoming negotiations with G-E.

G-E attempted last year to establish a no-increase pattern in the industry, on the ground that general increases would be inflationary and bad for the nation as a whole as well as the company and its employees. Later, however, G-E granted an eleven-cent-an-hour boost, after other major industries gave increases.

Boulware said yesterday that G-E "is more thoroughly convinced now than ever" that wage increases in industry "will have a bad effect on the welfare of all workers, and on the whole economy."

He said "general wage increases have been tried three times now, and each time they regenerated the wage-price-inflation spiral and cancelled themselves out."

Wage negotiations between the company and union may be reopened once by the union during the life of the two-year contract which expires April 1, 1950.

There was no statement from the union on the start of wage negotiations, nor comment on Boulware's declaration.

During the past three years, G-E workers have received pay raises averaging 18½ cents an hour, 15 cents and eleven cents. The current average wage of the union workers is estimated unofficially at $1.40 an hour.

Ewing Says Gain Is Made Toward World Fraternity

New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—Oscar R. Ewing, federal security administrator, said today that the human race has made more progress toward brotherhood in the last 200 years "than in the previous 2,000 years."

Ewing's remarks were in a speech prepared for a "Brotherhood Week" meeting of civic clubs in the Bronx.

"We have come a long way," he said, "since the days when witches were burned at the stake, when the Puritans of New England whipped and banished the Quakers, when the Irish here in New York . . . murdered and plundered the even more down-trodden Negroes, when the planters of Virginia massacred thousands of slaves, and when the Ku Klux Klan spread terror and hatred over half the country."

"While saying that 'we probably shall never attain absolute equality of opportunity,' Ewing added that 'we must continue to cherish the ideal.' He said each individual must do what he can.

Potters Protest Ray's Win In Y Cage Loop; Fullers Cop

Fuller's Sports scored a 39 to 37 squeaker win over Village Rest and Ray's Riversiders registered a 53 to 49 protest triumph over Potter Brothers in the brace of Y Basketball League games at the Y.M.C.A. court Saturday night.

As for that protest decision, Manager Johnny Hughes of Potters declared that he was playing the game under protest following a disputed shot by Tom McGrane late in the third period.

With two minutes left in the third stanza, McGrane looped a high side shot. Witnesses said the ball hit the wire covering over the light and then caromed into the basket for two points. Officials later declared they didn't see the ball contact the covering and as a result could not rule the ball out of bounds.

At the time of Hughes' protest, the Riversiders were leading by eight points.

Dunham Scores 17

Fullers overcame a five point deficit at half time to pull that 39-37 win out of the fire over the Village Rest basketballers. Dunham and Peck sparked the winners with 17 and 16 points respectively. Doyle flipped in 11 markers for the losing squad.

Trailing 23 to 19 at halftime, the Riversiders copied Fullers strategy and pulled from behind to turn back the stubborn Potter cagers. It was a nip and tuck game all the way with the lead changing hands several times.

McConnell, McGrane and "Specs" Ebelheiser vaulted the winners in the scoring column. Both McConnell and McGrane tallied 14 apiece while Ebelheiser bucketed 12. Greene and Engel were high for the losers with 21 and 12 points apiece.

Boston, Feb. 21 (AP)—Forty-year-old Sonya Klopfer of New York City and Donald Jacoby, 18, of Syracuse, N. Y., reigned today as eastern sectional skating titlists in the senior division. Both winners were pressed to the limit by representatives of the Skating Club of Boston, hosts for the three-day affair. The junior pair championship was won by Gloria Howley and William Lofgren, New York. Norma McCullagh and Robert Goodfellow, Jr., Rye, N. Y., finished fifth.

In The Pocket with CHARLIE TIANO

Bagatelles:

A couple of hefty singles by Johnny Ferraro and Elwood Robinson featured the bowling week in Kingston. The Bowldrome proprietor appeared on the way to his third "300" when he tossed an eight-timer in the Major League. He came a cropper on a pretty good shot in the ninth. Robinson, who leads leagues in high triples with obscene regularity, blasted 266 and paced the Central Rec League with 653.

Bob Hanley, the fabulous "Kid" of yesteryear, led the field with a rousing 671 in the Major loop. John "The Voice" MacLellan and Dick Howard both bettered 650 in the Major. On the distaff side, Mrs. Tess Moss came up with a nice 219-550 to lead the loop, while Mrs. Marge Van Alstyne's 202-558 was tops in the Friendship.

Navy Boxers Feature B'nai B'rith Ring Program Thursday Night

Neville-Callaway Bout Heads Card; Seats Selling Fast

Although Uncle Sam honors its men of the fleet at a different time of the year, Thursday will be Navy Day for boxing fans at the municipal auditorium.

B'nai B'rith's card for that night at the Broadway punch bowl features four navy champions who won their titles recently in New England.

The sailors are matched with some of the best amateurs around New York state and the battle program on paper looks as though there will be action galore.

All of the navy champs are on the U.S.S. Cruiser Rochester, which boasts of some of the best leather pushers wearing Uncle Sam's blue uniforms.

The boys are Jack Neville, 147 pounds; Billy Hunter, 126; Ollie Harris, 160; and Tony Porto, 220. Neville is paired with Ray Callaway, a Poughkeepsie welterweight, who claims the Pacific coast title won while he himself was in the navy during World War 2.

Hunter will meet Ray Field, Utica featherweight, Adirondack district champion of the A.A.U., who is popular with Kingston boxing fans. He is a busy little ringman who gives action every minute.

Harris will trade leather with Jim Hardy of Canaan, rated as one of the best punchers in the amateur middleweight ranks around upper New York state. Porto is down for five rounds with Reggie Henderson, Poughkeepsie bantamweight, who stopped Al Smith of Troy in one bout here and scored a decision over Pat Saruth of Albany.

There will be three three-round preliminaries on the card, the first of which will start at 9 P. M.

According to Leonard Miller, ticket chairman for B'nai B'rith, ringside seats are in big demand for Navy Night, and Bill Singer, the club's boxing director, prior to leaving for Florida, said that comment in general among fans indicated a capacity house Thursday.

Palmer Captures Houston Tourney

Houston, Tex., Feb. 21 (AP)—Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., won the $2,000 jackpot that went with first place in the Houston Open golf tournament by the skin of his teeth.

He beat the Memphis golfer, Cary Middlecott, one stroke yesterday when the Tennessee pro went one over par on the 17th hole and missed a chance to tie the match on the 18th by inches.

Palmer toured the 6,710-yard, par 72 Pine Forest Country Club course in 67 strokes to end with a 71-67-72.

Turnesa Third
Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N. Y., followed the two leaders with a 274. Close behind was Jim Ferrer, San Francisco, and Marjory Furgol, Albuquerque, N. M., at 276. E. J. Harrison of Albuquerque posted a 277 for sixth place and veteran Sam Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., was next with 281.

Lloyd Mangrum, Niles, Ill., finished eighth in the tournament with a 283, but the $415 prize shot him past Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., as pro golf's top money winner.

Mangrum now has won $6,170 compared to $5,862.50 for Demaret.

Demaret withdrew after posting a 71-76 for two rounds.

Middlecott won $1,400 for second place.

Better Mechanics

It requires a longer time to get an airplane mechanic's license than a pilot's license. The mechanic must have had at least two years' practical experience in a shop; only 200 hours of solo time is required of a transport pilot.

The first weight-driven clock was invented during the Middle Ages.

Fits Fine

Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs tries Dutch Leonard for size at Chicago's Wrigley Field. The 39-year-old pitcher was traded to the Chicago club by the Phillies.

Czechs Trip Sweden To Regain Ice Title

Stockholm, Feb. 21 (AP)—Czechoslovakia once again is the home of the world's amateur ice hockey champions.

The Czechs recaptured the title they won in 1947 and relinquished to Canada last year by defeating Sweden, 3-0, before 11,000 fans yesterday.

The triumph was the Czechs' fourth against one defeat in the final six-team round robin tournament. Canada, which fought Switzerland to a 1-1 tie, finished second and the United States third. Uncle Sam's squad blizzed Austria, 9-1, in their final game.

Both Canada and the United States finished with six points out the Canadians were awarded the runner-up spot on the basis of goals scored and goals against.

Dartball Results

The First Dutch dartball team copped two of three from the Reformed Church of the Comforter squad Friday night. The winners pulled a 1-0 game out of the fire in an 11-inning contest to win one of the games.

Daring Step

Officials of the first American railway, in the 1830's, feared to assume responsibility for carrying mail for the government, and took what officials thought was a daring step when they put on night trains to speed the mail.

STRIKING POSE

Discards Help to Place High Cards

One of the most interesting radio personalities I have met in a long time is Red Benson, who is heard every afternoon over the Mutual Broadcasting System on the program called "Red Benson's Movie Matinee." As we sat around chatting and doing a few card tricks, I was amazed to learn that this good-looking chap is a former prize fighter.

I asked Red if he is not confronted with a problem at times on his quiz program, and he told me about asking a girl not long ago if she would like to win a prize. Her quick response, right into the microphone, was, "No, I would rather win a husband. I do not know whether she won a husband or not, but I do know that Red won everything he could on today's hand."

West made a pretty good opening. If he had led a heart, there would not have been much of a problem, but his opening lead was the four of spades, which Red (South) won with the jack. Now he cashed all of the clubs, then cashed the king of hearts from dummy. West was a little excited and dropped the eight of hearts, indicating that he held the queen.

Next Red cashed the king of spades from dummy and led a spade to his ace. This left him with the ace and pack of hearts, and the ace and seven of diamonds.

West had had to bare down to the blank king-queen of diamonds, then threw West in the lead by playing the seven of diamonds, forcing West to lead from his queen-four of hearts into Red's ace-jack.

Bowling

Ad Jones peppered the pot-bellied maples at the Y lanes Friday night for a 608 triple to feature the Mercantile League activities.

"Pittsburgh Joe" opened with a 214 single and followed with solid counts of 207 and 187 for his pacesetter.

Runner-up was Eddie Marks who fashioned 210 and 555.

Other good scores reported included Mayhain who hit the jackpot with 233 in the opener but slumped and wound up with a 526 series. F. Sarbacher hit 189-525; V. Bruck 217-518; J. Raible 188-518; Spadafora 190-513; Greenburg, 171-509; E. Schussler 176-507; Everett 191-506; and C. Boyce 179-503.

Sangi Blasts 269

John "Red" Sangi established a new high individual single for the Central Mixer bowlers Sunday night when he unleashed a powerful 269 game in his middle effort. "Soabiscuit" opened with a 166 game, then splashed 269 and wound up with a 611 series.

Sangi's 269 eclipsed Dick Howard's former high mark of 258. Despite Sangi's nifty pin-busting, Van Valkenburgh Insurance dropped three straight to Williams Lake. Bud Evans sparked the winners with a runnerup total of 281-574.

Other noteworthy scores reported throughout the Sunday night circuit included Rita Frederick's 214-565; Jim Pruden 204-563; Ralph Mayone 225-554; John Lowe 188-536; Mitzie Arlensky 204-533; Joe Enright 191-524; Jim Daniels 195-513; Jake Chichelsky 179-512; Dick Williams 197-507; and George Uhl 193-507.

As a result of last night's matches, Van Valkenburghs remain in first place but with a reduced lead. Hudson Valley Diner moved into second place five games off the pace.

Chick Prendergast paced a low scoring session in the Ferraro Mixed League Sunday night at the Bowlodrome with a 495 triple. Others below the coveted "500" circle included Lou Amell 192-483; Len Freer 190-465; Winsome Betty Bailey 175-423; Miriam Posner 178-481; R. Dumenigo 191-479; and Marie Koehn 171-473.

Two Firsts

New England, considered one of the world's first medical centers, was the site of the foundation of the first anti-vivisection society in the United States.

An early timekeeper was the Egyptian water-clock which operated on the principle of the hourglass.

It Adds a Hundred Miles to the Day!

White sidewall tires available at additional cost

Owners of the 1949 Cadillac are going to get a pleasant surprise when they take it out for that first cross-country run. Without any extra effort whatsoever, they are going to wind up that first day's touring about a hundred miles farther from home than they expected to be! For here, beyond any doubt, is the greatest "mile-eater" that ever rolled over a highway. We are not talking about excessive speed—because, regardless of the power they have at their command, sensible people observe the laws of the road and the rules of safety. But the 1949 Cadillac is so cat-quick and eager—so smooth and easy and effortless—that it covers an amazing amount of distance inside the safe and legal limits. You take the hills as fast as the level stretches—you make the first hundred yards away from a stop light as fast as you make the second hundred—and the car's matchless agility enables you to avoid many of the pockets in slow-moving traffic. The secret, of course, is found in the great new Cadillac V-type engine—plus the marvelous new engineering in the Cadillac chassis. Actually, you almost seem to move by automatic propulsion. There is no performance like it—anywhere in the world.

Navy Stages Tests With 'A-Bomb' and Swift Submarines

Washington, Feb. 21.—The Navy shoves off today for a mock battle with the two things that give it gooseflesh — atom bombs and "snorkel" submarines.

Major warships, including the 45,000-ton carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, and the equally big battleship Missouri, are sailing from east coast ports for the mid-Atlantic and later, the Caribbean.

Billed as the Navy's biggest peacetime exercises, the games will combine some 35,000 men, 120 ships and several hundred aircraft to practice the latest tricks of sea warfare.

The Navy is on the alert not only for its first deep-sea trial of fighting ships against the A-bomb, but also because of disengagement of naval power by air power enthusiasts.

In particular, the air force has criticized the Navy's yet-unbuilt 65,000-ton carrier as a pushover for bombers.

The Navy has argued heatedly that even the A-bomb could sink no more than one ship out of a task force because of the wide dispersal between ships.

The Atlantic fleet will be bedeviled by two imitation atom bombs, "simulated guided missile attacks" and an assortment of new high-speed submarines that are practically invisible on a radar screen.

One mock A-bomb will burst above the ships, another below the water in an effort to disrupt the amphibious assault landing that will climax the tests in mid-March.

This follows the pattern of the 1946 Bikini tests when a giant big fleet was attacked above and below the water by the new weapon. The underwater blast lashed the ships with radioactive water—the real thing was turned loose at Bikini — and made the bottom of the lagoon dangerous to this day.

Admiral W. L. Blandy, who was in charge of the Bikini experiment, will direct the exercises. He now is commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet.

The British home fleet last December fought off an imitation A-bomb attack — with the U. S. vice chief of naval operations, Vice Admiral Arthur W. Radford, an interested spectator. The U. S. fleet met its mock A-bomb with the British's former host, Admiral Sir Rhoderick R. McGrigor, commander in chief of the British home fleet.

The exchange of such high ranking observers, plus a contingent of the Canadian Army taking part with the American soldiers, sailors and marines, underlines the close U. S. cooperation with British forces in preparing defensive measures.

Pope Tells Throng

his fifteen-minute address that the peoples of Communist-dominated countries should shut any state which might limit the activity of the Roman Catholic Church.

The crowd cheered the Pope as he stepped to the microphone. "Papa, Papa, Papa — Viva Il Papa!" they cried, refusing to quiet until the Pontiff stilled them with his opening word "Roman!" (Romans).

Fervent cheers followed virtually every sentence.

The Pope spoke following an open-air Mass.

The throng roared their approval when he asserted that the Pope could not remain silent when the church's affiliates were torn from her with "violence and cunning," when parents could not educate their children as they liked, when states interfered with religious organization and priests were punished for not violating the secrecy of the confessional.

"Such protests, he asserted, are not 'illegitimate interference' in the political powers of the state.

"Modern persecutors," he said, surpass the torturers of the Christian martyrs in the days of Nero, by "using the most recent advances of science" to shame their victims after physically crushing them.

Elks to Entertain Grand Exalted Ruler

Grand Exalted Ruler George I. Hall, left, accepts invitation to be present at Kingston Lodge, 550, from Herman E. Gottfried, chairman of the local Elks' committee arranging a program in his honor scheduled for the night of Thursday, March 3. (A.P. Photo)

Will Make Official Visit to Lodge Thursday, March 3

Kingston Lodge, 550, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, will be signally honored on Thursday night, March 3, by an official visit from Grand Exalted Ruler George I. Hall, who is touring the nation.

Exalted Ruler William A. Krum, who issued the invitation through his reception committee chairman, Attorney Herman E. Gottfried, said he felt highly honored upon its acceptance. "A visit from the grand exalted ruler adds to the importance of the local lodge," he added, "and every member should feel elated that Brother Hall has included Kingston in his itinerary."

Grand Exalted Ruler Hall is on tour and has visited lodges in Louisville, Ky., Charleston, W. Va., Pittsburgh, Pa., St. Louis, Mo., and Panama. Demands for personal appearances by him are great.

Other members appointed by Exalted Ruler Krum to the reception committee, besides Gottfried, are: District Attorney Louis Bruhn, Assistant District Attorney Vincent G. Connelly, Attorney Thomas J. Plunkett, G. Dewey Logan, past exalted ruler and Dr. Joseph Rosenberg, past district deputy.

On the night of his personal appearance, March 3, Grand Exalted Ruler Hall will deliver a talk on the services that Elksdom has rendered and intends to render to all fellow members. All members of the lodge are urged to attend the occasion for a large and impressive welcome.

Grand Exalted Ruler Hall is a member of Lodge 1315 in Queens. During the years 1937 and 1938 he served as district deputy grand exalted ruler for the southeastern district of New York and was thereafter elected president of the Past Exalted Rulers Association of that district. In 1941 the New York State Elks Association recognized his leadership and he was elected president of the association for that year. He was born in New York 52 years ago and served with distinction in World War I while in the United States Navy.

Norway's North...

1,100 miles long. Nearly half of this "Land of the Midnight Sun" is within the Arctic circle, thinly inhabited, cut off from rapid communication with Oslo, the capital in the south.

Besides a frontier of 122 miles with Russia, there is another of 450 miles with Finland, which is in a tight Soviet military grip.

In the estimation of Russian strategists, the North Cape may outrank in importance the Dardanelles and the Skaterrak, which control Soviet passage to the Mediterranean and the North Sea.

Scattered pioneer villages hug the fjords in the North Cape region. Fishing is the main occupation. There is a shortage of everything but human endurance. The north is an economic drag on Norway as well as a possible military liability.

Best Defense Line

Norway's most tenable defense line if Russia ever attempts "police action" is in the vicinity of Narvik, nearly 300 miles from the North Cape. Since Czechoslovakia reaches within three or four miles of the neutral Swedish frontier, the narrow land is rugged.

It is no secret in Oslo that Norway could not hope to offer more than a brief resistance in the far north. A few platoons of ski troops, several fighter planes and a gunboat or two warily keep watch.

The irony of the situation is that the Norwegians really like the Russian people. The Red army behaved well when it entered Norway in 1944, distributed free grain to relieve a famine, and withdrew punctually in 1945. Traditionally, there has been little or no friction between Russia and Norway.

But this is a nightmarish era of cold war. Since Czechoslovakia succumbed to a Red putsch, Norwegians have been filled with grave doubts as to Russia's aims regarding her little neighbors. And Norway feels very lonely today.

Cold Weather Is Helping Flood Danger Sections

(By The Associated Press)

A timely recurrence of cold weather has plugged rising flood waters along streams in the mid-west today as military operations continued to shrink the blizzard disaster area.

The freezing weather stopped the runoff from melting snow with some Nebraska counties on the verge of another impending disaster, this time from overflowing streams. The colder weather was expected to hold out through today, at least, allowing needed time for the high water to roll downstream.

At the same time, Gen. Lewis A. Pick, commanding snow-removal operations, said the emergency appeared to have passed in six South Dakota counties, long snow-bound, and that he had recommended demobilization of men and machinery there.

Some North Dakota counties still remained to be dug out, however, and Gen. Pick said more equipment was being sent into that area. He said 1,031 men and 229 pieces of heavy snow-moving equipment were in operation there.

The worst Nebraska flooding occurred in the vicinity of Falls City where the Nemaha river and other smaller streams had inundated a total of 23 square miles. At Agency, Mo., the Platte river was reported out of its banks.

The Willamette river and its tributaries which had flooded upper valley lowlands in Oregon also were falling substantially.

Port Ewen Water Tender Exams Set

An open competitive examination for water superintendent in the Port Ewen water district will be held by the Ulster County Civil Service Commission on April 30. The last day for filing applications is March 28. All candidates must have been a resident of Ulster county for at least a year and of the Port Ewen water district for at least a year immediately prior to the examination. The salary is $2040 a year.

Applications may be secured from the Ulster County Civil Service Commission at 32 Main street, Kingston, or from Mrs. Alice Timm, clerk of the Town of Esopus, Town Hall, Port Ewen.

Duties are to have general supervision of the water supply of the village and do related work as required. Candidates must have a year of satisfactory experience in a water purification or treatment plant; or completion of a course of instruction in water purification or treatment approved by the Public Health Council and three months of satisfactory experience in a water purification or treatment plant; or any equivalent combination of the foregoing training and experience. A grade III public water treatment and purification plant operator's certificate will be required of permanent appointees.

There has been no official estimate of casualties.

out some amicable arrangement with the two delegations.

No Commitments

Senator Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo, in a statement on behalf of Erie G.O.P. legislators, said: "We are making no commitments either for or against the budget and tax program. We are continuing our efforts of the past few weeks, looking to cutting the budget. We think the people are fed up with high taxes."

A dozen legislators interviewed after last night's conference agreed that Dewey's case on behalf of his budget and tax program was "well presented."

They said Dewey was ready to listen to suggestions on ways to cut the budget without eliminating appropriations for what he considered essential services.

They said also Dewey opened the way to proposals for alternative methods of raising new revenue to replace his recommended income and gasoline tax boosts.

Dewey spent the first half-hour after the buffet supper in a detailed explanation of his budget recommendations and devoted the rest of the evening to answering questions.

Assemblyman Orio M. Brees of Endicott, who has said he will vote against the gasoline tax boost, told a reporter after the conference: "I cannot see how the budget can be cut. My opinion is that it will pass substantially as is."

Po'keepsie Sales Tax Registration Scheduled

Poughkeepsie, Feb. 21.—Notification has been given by Taxation Commissioner Murphy that all merchants and other responsible parties for collection of the city's two per cent retail sales tax must register by March 1.

He announced that forms of registration would be available at the city hall and anticipated that from 1,500 to 2,000 will be used.

As the tax applies not only to stores, registrations will be asked for partnerships, societies, associations, companies, corporations, estates, etc. Religious, charitable and educational institutions are exempt from the tax but must apply for exemption certificates.

Hearing Is Transferred
